Wear a smile—it is warmer in winter and cooler in summer.

Rev. D. F. Swindle, of Lexington will preach at the Baptist Church next Sunday morning and night.

Ten million men have been killed, wounded, captured or are missing in the European war, according to figures just compiled. The number of dead is said to be more than 4,400,000.

"The choice of books, like that of the choice of friends, is a serious duty. We are as responsible for what we read as what we do." And it may be added that we are largely responsible for what our children read.

I wonder where they get 'em—all those styles. These windows full of fashions by the miles.

Wonder whose imaginations figure out the waist creations. To add unto our grave financial trial.

If we were to read something like this we would know at once the bridegroom was a man of wealth. The bride carried a beautiful bouquet of spruce and wore around her neck a string of genuine potatoes, with a cauliflower pendant, the gift of the groom.

ANOTHER BREAKFAST BACON TALK

Braces a person up for the work of the day. Nothing else is so satisfying, nothing else supplies an equal amount of energy to "do things."

PROVIDING--- the Bacon is mild, sweet and nicely streaked with fat and lean.

Now you might think it was an easy matter to find such Bacon—BUT IT ISN'T. Most Bacons are too salty, or too fat or too lean, or too something or other. If you prefer something just right we can give it to you.

Our Bacon can be served to children as well as grown-ups. It can be enjoyed by the office worker as well as the outdoor laborer. Try an order.

ATTRACTIVE CAR.

Mr. Roy M. Arnold, of Danville, was in town one day this week exhibiting the 1917 Chevrolet car, for which he has the agency for Boyle and Garrard counties. This good car has many admirers and users in this and adjoining counties, owing to its well built qualities and medium price.

WOODS-PRATHER.

The marriage of Miss Mary Woods to Mr. Cecil Prather came as a surprise to their friends. They were married in Stanford by Rev. Early and after the ceremony motored back to Lancaster. Miss Mary is a daughter of Mrs. Garrett Woods and Mr. Prather is a prosperous young farmer of the Buckeye section, both are popular, counting their friends by their acquaintance.

HAD THINGS HIS OWN WAY

Hon. J. R. Mount of Lancaster, was the only one of the Senatorial aspirants here at court Monday and he had things his own way. Representative H. Clay Kauffman, of Lancaster, was at his post at Frankfort and Hon. Jay Harlan of Boyle, was at Frankfort arguing a case in the Federal court. Mr. Mount told the I. J. that he was more than pleased with conditions in his race, and that he had many new pledges of support given him while here—Interior Journal.

BOTH GAME FIGHTERS.

That Lincoln county will have one sure enough scrap in the August primary is certain since Will S. Burch, the present County Attorney, has become a candidate for reelection and the Democratic renomination. Although a cripple Bill Burch can fight it out with the best of them on the hustings and in the political game he is a past master. His opponent is Judge John Sam Owsley, another game fighter, and the contest between these two will attract attention wherever they are known—Louisville Times.

BANK STATEMENTS.

In this issue of the Record is printed the financial condition of the Citizens National Bank and The National Bank, at the close of business, March 5th. These are the best statements we have ever printed and we dare say are the best that were ever printed by either bank, in the past ten years. The individual deposits of the National Bank show $301,583.70 and the deposits of the Citizens Bank about $250,000. Both banks are in a flourishing condition, showing large surplus and undivided profits.

SORELY AFFLICTED.

Mr. W. L. Prather who lives in the eastern section of the county, near Nina, is critically ill of pneumonia. His wife has only recently recovered from a serious attack of typhoid fever, and at this time has a son in the hospital at Richmond in a serious condition. About one year ago Mr. Prather lost a daughter from diphtheria and a few months ago lost a twelve year old son, from drinking too much whiskey, which he had found in a bottle near the home. Mr. and Mrs. Prather have the sympathy of the community in their sore affliction.

BIRTHDAY DINNER.

Mrs. Ross Bastin entertained at an elegant dining Monday in honor of her father, Mr. Will Lear. The splendid dinner and congenial friends seated around the festal board were honoring the 65 years that had been passed by Mr. Lear. Judging by his happy face, and no gray hairs, these have been happy years with every promise of many more. Those asked to dine with him were F. M. Tindler, V. A. Lear, H. V. Bastin, A. H. Bastin, Ross Bastin and W. L. Duddler of Lincoln.

The Record extends congratulations and best wishes of many happy returns of natal day to Mr. Lear.

ILLITERACY CELEBRATION.

At Manchester, in Clay county, not long ago, there was a celebration which probably stands without a parallel in history. The ranking feature was a parade. At the head of the column "Uncle" Ed Stivers, 90 years of age, carried an American flag. In the imposing line, he was next to the oldest scholar—for every one of the 967 men and women were beginners in school.

They were celebrating their emancipation. They had learned to read and write. They were a battalion of the army which the Kentucky Illiteracy Commission is delivering out of bondage. "No Illiteracy in Kentucky In 1920" is the slogan of the movement. The aim for 1916 was to teach 2,500 persons to read and write.

What is Garrard doing to forward this movement? Are we doing anything to deliver our state and county out of the hard of illiteracy?

COUNTY ATTORNEY

BUYS FARM.

Swinebroad, the Real Estate Man, reports that he has just sold to County Attorney G. C. Walker for Sam Cotton his farm of 122 acres for $11,500.00. This farm is located 1 mile from town and has a fine frontage on the Stanford pike and while it has no improvements except a large barn it is one of the most desirable farms near town and we think Mr. Walker showed good judgment in the purchase.

READING AT SCHOOL

AUDITORIUM.

Miss Alta Hammond, the pretty and attractive daughter of Mr. Joe Hammond, of this county, will give a reading at the school Auditorium Saturday night at eight o'clock. She will read from that intensely interesting book "Molly Make-Believe". Miss Hammond is just from a school of expression and we are sure the evening and small price of admission will be pleasantly spent by those who attend. For only 15 and 25 cents we can assure you an enjoyable evening.

MAKING MONEY

AND FRIENDS.

Mr. Joe S. Haselden, who is the chief live wire with the Consolidated Realty Company, writes friends here that he is riding on the high wave of prosperity, having just closed a sale at Holly Grove, Ark, where he had just sold $5,000 worth of lots and had the cash. These lots were purchased as a whole a few weeks ago for $3,000, leaving a net profit for Mr. Haselden of $5,000. Mr. P. W. Wells, of this county is associated Mr. Haselden and their friends "back home" are proud of their success. Their next sale of lots will be at Lebanon Ky.

IN LOVING MEMORY

Of Mrs. Jane Denny Robinson

Mrs. Jane Denny Robinson died at her home on Richmond street Wednesday morning, her death following a stroke of apoplexy which she suffered two weeks ago, only regaining consciousness at short intervals and recognizing the loved ones at her bedside long enough to show love and appreciation. In this manner the spirit lingered in its house of clay until 6:30 o'clock yesterday morning, when the silver cord was loosened, the golden bowl broken, and her beautiful spirits set sail on that sea whose bosom has never borne the image of a returning sail.

Mrs. Robinson was one of the best women it has ever been our privilege to know and love. Her whole life was one long exhibition of unselfish devotion to others.

In that quiet circle in which she moved she shed the rays of a great love on all about her. Modest and unassuming, she found her greatest happiness in the happiness of those she loved. To her young friends was she especially attached, and she basked in the sunshine of the adoration of their hearts. She was a true Christian in the fullest meaning of the word. At an early age she gave herself to her Lord, being reared in a Presbyterian family she first joined that church to which she was ever devoted, but being a real daughter of Israel in her early married life she said: "Thy people shall be my people" and united with the Christian church with her devoted husband. Her lamp was ever trimmed and burning and she was ready to answer the last call. Often in her last days she was heard to say: "I am living so close to Jesus and I am ready to go."

A simple faith, a lasting fidelity and a heart full of love and charity sum up the characteristics of this good woman. There could be no more illuminating illustration of her character than incidents that have occurred this winter when she would hand to a friend some money and ask that it be used for some one in distress.

Today as she lies on her bier in her home, hallowed by her presence, she will be surrounded by a throng of spirits of those to whom she gave of her bounty and her love.

Mrs. Robinson was born Nov. 13th, 1837. On Feb. 12th 1863 she was united in marriage to Mr. Alex. C. Robinson. Mr. Robinson died Jan. 6 1912, having lived a peaceful, happy married life, their only sorrow being when they lost their first born, their son, Finley, just as he attained young manhood. Their family now grown, are all useful citizens attesting the characters of this worthy couple. They are Mrs. Joe Paxton of Stanford, Messrs. Jake, Fleece and George Robinson.

The funeral services will be conducted tomorrow, Friday, at her late home at 2:30 o'clock by Elder F. M. Tindler and H. S. Hudson, after which interment will take place in the Lancaster cemetery.

FLY THE FLAG

The Baltimore Sun sets forth the reasons for this in definite terms. Nothing can be added to its remarks. They follow:

"These are days in which it is almost as essential to show your patriotism as it is to feel it. These are days in which every man ought to realize all that his American citizenship is, all that it involves, all that it demands of him. Life, liberty and the pursuits of happiness these were hackneyed words yesterday; today they are full of meaning.

"The flag is the symbol of our Government. It stands for freedom, for opportunity, for equality. It stands for sacred rights which the heroic men of the nation have maintained in parliamentary halls and diplomatic conferences and on red battlefields. It is something high and holy.

"So raise the flag over your house or your business building. It will make every man who passes by feel his Americanism a little more keenly. It will stimulate the spirit of patriotism. It will help us all to realize that we are one people, owing allegiance to one Government, moving unitedly to one goal. And it may strengthen the resolution of those who pass by to live for the flag, and, if necessary, to die for it."

GOOD LAW PROPOSED

Would Abolish a Nuisance and Protect the Public from Impositions.

The proposal of Senator Huntsman that the Legislature enact a law taxing the concessions for tipping at the cloak rooms racks of hotels, restaurants and similar places has caused much interest in Louisville. It is estimated that the proposal would mean a license of about $1,000 a year for each privilege and would end this lucrative enterprise.

The system which the proposed legislation would abolish or at least give the state a chance at the "rake off," has long been under censure. Although the tips which are given at the cloak rooms and racks are received by smiling young girls, who presumably keep them, such is not the case. These are turned over to the local manager of the foreign syndicate which has purchased the concessions, and the girls are paid a straight salary of $35 a month.

The checking tipping privilege at The Seelbach is owned by a Buffalo syndicate. Those at the Hotel Henry Watson, Old Inn and Maganolia Garden are controlled by a Chicago concern, which has similar connections all over the country, and that at the Tyler by another Chicago firm. It is said that the contract with The Seelbach nets that hotel $1,900 a year, the Hotel Henry Watson $600 and the Old Inn $750 a year.
